3. PROCEDURE TO BE OBSERVED FOR BIDDING FAREWELL TO THE RETIREING EMPLOYEES.

I. NON- EXECUTIVES :

- (i) The Departmental Head may invite the retiring employee on his last working day for a farewell function followed by tea/snacks.
- (ii) After a brief address and tea, the retiring employee may be garlanded and presented with a memento.
- (iii) A group photograph of the retiring employee may be taken with the concerned Departmental Head and others present and a copy of it may be sent to him in due course.
- (iv) If the retiring employee has been responsible for any outstanding work, he may be presented to the General Manager/Functional Director as the case may be on the date of his/her retirement or earlier.
- (v) Wherever possible, the retiring employee may be sent home in a vehicle arranged by the Management on his/her last working day.

II. EXECUTIVES :

A procedure similar to the one as indicated above may be adopted for executives also, but the level at which the farewell function is to be arranged, is indicated below :

(i) Executives in Grade – I to IV

The concerned Dy. General Manager may arrange a similar function as outlined in (I) above for Executives upto and including Gr. IV.

(ii) Executives in Grade V & VI:

A Farewell dinner may be arranged for the retiring officer by the concerned General Manager at the Division where the Officer is retiring.

(iii) General Managers/Directors :

A Farewell dinner may be hosted by Chairman-cum-Managing Director for the retiring GM/Director. The other Directors of the Company as well as GMs locally present may be invited.
